Walking with Giant experience

This is a unique two hours experience spent with the elephants in their natural surroundings with their mahouts and a vet or biologist. Wander at a leisurely pace (set by the elephants) through the jungle, ask as many questions as you like about their habitat and habits, or simply enjoy their peaceful, ponderous presence. Learn how the program not only works with the mahouts to introduce alternatives to the centuries-old practice of using bullhooks, but to provide English lessons and sustainable business opportunities for their families.

Conclude your walk at the river or mud bath, where the elephants get busy playing while you prepare their snacks. Indeed, the program is tailored entirely to the elephants and their well-being; there is, for example, no riding of the majestic beasts anywhere in the itinerary. The opportunity to follow their lead, to share their habitat and form a deeper connection to these spectacular creatures who have, for centuries in Thailand, been so mistreated, is a treat. There is no trumpeting on demand, so if you catch a joyful blast, it's even more special.

Chiang Rai tour TBD

Enjoy a half-day tour of Chiang Rai, exploring its most iconic cultural landmarks including the dazzling White Temple (Wat Rong Khun) known for its intricate all-white architecture, and the vibrant Blue Temple (Wat Rong Suea Ten), admired for its striking blue and gold interior. The tour also includes a visit to a local market or hilltribe village for a glimpse into traditional life with an optional stop at the Black House (Baan Dam Museum), a unique art complex blending modern and Lanna-style design.
